Setting up Podcast Equipment
The Podcast Kit has four headsets, four preamps, and the Mixer / Volume control.

Preamp

1. Attach the headsets to the mixer / volume control. Each headset has two jacks at the end of the cable, one marked "Mic" and one marked "Phone." Attach each microphone jack to a preamp, and the preamp to the mixer (the silver top piece.) The headphone jacks plug into the volume control / amp (the black bottom piece.)

2. Attach the power adaptors to the Mixer (silver top piece, marked "Behringer") and to the Volume control / amp (the black bottom piece, marked "Headamp.") The adaptors look interchangeable, but they're not! Plug them into the electric outlet (or a power strip) so the little green LED lights come on.

Just remember: microphones are "input," and headphones are "output!"

3. Plug the long cable from the back of the mixer (from the two-plug adaptor in the "output" plug) to the microphone input on the front of your computer. The very short cable connects the "output" plug on the back of the mixer (top box) to the "Stereo in" plug on the back of the volume control (bottom box.)

Open up Audacity, and off you go!
